

Cover: "The Story King for Children," Issue 5, 1996

Article content

Translation from ChatGPT:

"The Little Goldfish Soars to the Sky"

Once upon a time, there was a little goldfish, a lion, and a giraffe who lived happily together. The lion came to the edge of the pond, and the little goldfish swam over and asked, "Mr. Lion, what are you doing by the pond?" The lion replied, "I'm thirsty, just here to have a drink of water." The little goldfish then asked, "I really want to play in the sky, but I can't leave the water. Can you help me?" At that moment, the giraffe happened to be passing by the pond. After a moment of thought, Mr. Lion said, "Alright! You wait here." He quickly called out to the giraffe, then found a glass jar, placed it in the pond, and let the little goldfish swim into it. Mr. Lion asked the giraffe to lower its head and placed the glass jar on top of the giraffe's head. The giraffe, like a circus performer, walked back and forth, balancing the glass jar on its head. The little goldfish joyfully exclaimed, "Oh! I've finally flown to the sky."

Storyteller: Wang Yangtuanfeng (Age: 6)
Affiliation: Kindergarten of Nanjing College of Electric Power, Class: Senior Recorded by: Wang Lin (Dad)